

How it all began

December 14th 2012

The Prime Minister calls an emergency meeting of the cabinet, along with several scientists. He has been informed that there is a meteorite shower heading towards earth, and is due to strike the earth in 7 days time.

At the same time as he has called a cabinet meeting, all the other heads of state are doing the same thing.

The one question he wants to know from the scientist is can it be stopped, their answer is no, they also inform him it is a life killer; after the shower has hit nothing on earth will be the same.

All the heads of state agree not to tell the members of the public, this would only lead to world wide panic,

December 15th 2012

The cabinet are moved to the nuclear bomb shelter, along with their families, several scientist, and doctors.

It is still decided not to tell the members of the public.

December 16th 2012

The news leaks out about the meteorite shower, the public demand that the Prime Minister either confirms or deigns the rumours.

Wide spread panic buying breaks out all over the world when it is discovered that the Prime Minister has already moved into a Nuclear Shelter.

December 17th 2012

World wide looting has broken out; all phone lines are tied up as people try to get in touch with their families.

The police cannot maintain control and call in the army to keep control.

A 9pm curfew is imposed, and anybody breaking the curfew will be shot, as well as anybody caught looting.

A blackout is imposed on all News Papers, and News programmes.

All Internet access is disabled.

All Flights are grounded, apart from military

December 18th 2012

All telephone lines to the general public are cut.

Store are empty as all food has been purchased, and they cannot get any more.

There is still power, the only channel on the TV is the government channel, advising members of the public not to panic.

The Prime Minister has confirmed with other countries of the world that there is no way to stop the meteorite shower, but they may be able to divert it if all the countries with nuclear power aim their rockets at it at the same time.

December 19th 2012

Anarchy is breaking out all over the world as the people are kept in the dark as to what is happening.

In India several members of the public were shot and killed by the army after they tried to storm the political headquarters.

In America several members of the public were shot and killed for trying to break into both the White House, and the Pentagon.

China the people are rioting in the streets, several are injured as the police fire rubber bullets and tear gas into the crowds.

All over the world there are reports to the heads of state about the rioting, a decision is taken to inform the public about the effort to use nuclear warheads to deflect the shower

Rockets carrying the warheads are launched from all over the world.

Rockets fail to have any impact on the trajectory of the shower.

Heads of state decide to lie to the public and tell them it was a great success and there would only be a few small bits of Debarry coming into the earth's atmosphere.

December 20th 2012

Music is played over the radios

Street parties are organised by the army to cheer the members of the public up and to make them feel there is no longer anything to worry about.

A few soldiers are put into solitary for try to tell people it is all a lie.

Governments make plans for what to do after the meteorite strike

Estimations as high as 90% death rate are calculated

Prime Mister of England commits suicide by poison

Deputy Prime Minister immediately takes charge.

Government get army to supply beer and wine to the street parties

Mood of the people is much better, there is even dancing in the streets.

December 21st 2012 Doomsday

The first meteorite struck the southern part of Brazil, wiping out the population for several hundred miles

That was followed by the main shower, the sky turned red from the dust blotting out the sun.

Earth quakes and tidal waves wiped out 90% of the population in the southern hemisphere and 40% in the Northern Hemisphere

State leaders have lost contact with each other, and all contact with the outside world.

December 22nd 2012

Civilisations break down.

December 25th 2012

Christmas day

Nobody is celebrating; there are no turkeys to eat

People are scavenging for food

Rumours that some people have turned to cannibalism

Government are getting messages on short wave radio that the meteorite shower was radio active.

December 26th 2012

People are starting to form into gangs for protection

People are finding mutilated bodies, not sure if been eaten by animal or human

Jan 1st 2013 New year

People are now discovering more and more mutilated bodies, these have obviously been eaten by humans

Gangs now organising foraging parties to find, food, water, fuel and weapons.

Jan 10th 2013

New fear hits the community as a Zombie was seen tearing the flesh off of a dead body and eating it.

Very few survivors not members of gangs now

Jan 20th 2013

Gang rivalry starting to arise, with gangs attacking other gangs for their commodities

Feb 2013

More Zombies seen attacking people,

Humans realising that they can become a Zombie if bitten by one.

Gang leaders call a truce so that they can join forces to overcome the Zombie menace

Gang leaders form hunting parties from the strongest of their members

March 2013

Gang leaders start to trade with each other for the commodities' that they have a surplus of

Gangs rename themselves Fractions, and fly a flag of the commodity that they have most of so that other fractions know what they have to trade.

Zombie numbers are reaching epidemic proportions

The Zombie virus as it is now named is crossing the country like wild fire

Government have decided to set up relief stations with the few army personnel they can get in touch with

April 2013

The government have started work on a relief station in the Midlands as this is the most central spot

It is decided to stock the relief stations with a skeleton medical team. To look after the survivors

May 2013

A possible cure to the Zombie virus has been discovered, supplies of this anti virus are being shipped to the medical centre.

Government is looking into the best way to advise the survivors

May 2013

Government have managed to track down a helicopter and pilot they can use, they have decided to do a paper drop saying where the medical centre can be found.

To make sure that the anti virus is given to the people that will stand the best chance of surviving before you can enter the medical centre you will need to apply for your medical form.

A small admin charge is required for this due to the work involved in tracking down your medical records.

June 2013

The medical centre construction is almost complete

Several medical forms have been sent out, and people are slowly making their way to the medical centre ready for its opening.

July 2013

Medical centre almost stocked and staffed ready for the arrival of patients

Medical centre almost full, can only take 500 inpatients, up to 460 applications for to enter the centre as inpatient

Negotiating with surrounding factions to see if patients can enter their area

Negotiations completed successfully and been told that our patients may cross their area but to make sure that show a sign stating that they are associated with the medical centre

Advised all patients when returning their forms of the above stipulation by the faction leaders

August 2013

Medical centre now open.

Patients are pouring in

Faction leaders try to recruit the patients to their group; numbers are strength is one factions motto

Medical centre puts on entertainment to keep the patients subdued during their stay at the centre

A cure for the Zombie disease is being tested on the patients and seems to be working

August 11th 2013

Zombie virus now successfully cured
Patients let out medical centre to try to put their lives back together.
